Lars Stugemo, President and CEO HiQ

MARKETS

2011 was a special year. It started stable and positively. The second half was characterised by a European debt crisis and increased uncertainty.

HiQ's market is the Nordics. We were very successful in developing our business during the year. HiQ has intensified its recruitment of new employees throughout the Group in line with our clients' needs.

HiQ simplifies people's daily lives. We simplify and improve things using our technology, business and operational expertise. Today, technology and IT are highly business-critical to most enterprises. HiQ is increasingly also being contracted to take responsibility for clients' adjacent areas, such as test and quality assurance processes or simulation.

HiQ has extensive experience and a strong position and brand in the Nordic region as a specialist IT and management consultancy. HiQ has solid expertise in technology, operations and business, making us well placed to create results for our clients.

The seven market segments in which HiQ operates are constantly developing. Requirements of mobile solutions, accessibility and transparency are creating opportunities for HiQ to use its expertise to simplify things for clients. We have close partnerships with many clients in a number of sectors who want to be at the forefront of the development of products and services in their area of business.

We are seeing proof of this as we help banks develop mobile solutions for clients, making banking easier using mobile devices.

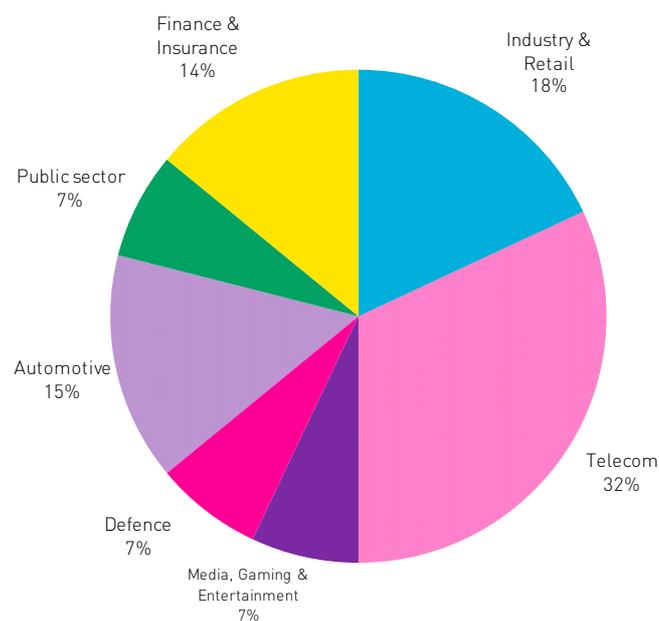

Retailers are reporting that a record proportion of Christmas shopping was transacted online. This trend will continue to create opportunities for more players in this sector.

Our knowledge from the telecoms sector is also put to use in other sectors, such as when we simplify TV viewing by developing IP-TV.

We are proud that FMV, the Swedish Defence Materiel Administration, has reconfirmed its confidence in us by entrusting us with the continued development of JAS simulators. This work has been going on since the mid 1990s.

The automotive sector is a technology-intensive industry, and today IT is creating better and more modern vehicles that include entertainment and safety systems. We work closely with our clients and suggest the simplest and best solutions to create the best possible business benefit.

To do this, the finance industry needs to find competitive solutions, and this is creating opportunities for HiQ.

HiQ has cutting edge expertise in processes and IT for securities trading. HiQ has successfully established itself as one of the Nordic region's leading providers of specialist IT services for securities trading. HiQ works actively to strengthen its brand through marketing, partnerships and unique activities.

HiQ's web TV station, Channel Q, is an obvious example of HiQ's expertise in technology for modern media.

To celebrate openness and show what advanced technology is doing to make society more open, HiQ invited participants to join in by sending live images from their mobiles. The live streaming was included in the broadcast online and presented on the big screen in Kungsträdgården in Stockholm. The result was a new Nordic record in live streaming in one day via a single website. The broadcast was a great success and is being followed by tens of thousands of TV viewers.
